Presentation to Gen. Brisbin by the 125th U. S. Colored Infantry -- Speeches on the

On Wednesday the officers and soldiers of the 125th U.S. colored infantry presented Gen, Brisbin with a beautiful service of silver, in token of their appreciation. The presentation, on behalf of the regiment, was made by Colonel Armstrong, who accompanied the costly gift with a neat speech,

GEN. BRISBIN: In behalf of the officers this token of their high regard. By this act we mean to signify more especially our profound appreciation of the zeal, ability and heroic constancy with which you have labored, since opportunity was first offered, to free, strengthen and lift up a despised and degraded race. This is the labor, this the stainless deed, this the lofty and unguilty grandeur of goodness, which which we honor, and which wins from us a tribute that is more than admiration. It is to be that is more than admiration. It is to be expected that in the besotted society around us, the smaller and meaner sort of men will wag their heads in imbecile derision, and point the skinny finger of their paltry the smaller and meaner sort of men scorn, but they are powerless to harm you or this cause. For the right at last begins to be the mightiest might in this improving world, and the sword of justice is become the scepter of empire, and her ministers are greater than Kirsh greater than Kings.

What you have already done, General, in behalf of an abject and unhappy race, is the solid corner-stone and fair beginning of a true fame. We would have you build on as you have commenced. The fates are kind; much remains to be done. The fetter is broken, but week least and is broken, but weakness, ignorance, and lordliness remain; the iniquity which once enslaved is now the rancor which hates, the calumny that stabs, the malice that oppres-ses, defrauds and murders; to pause here is ses, defrauds and murders; to pause here is to throw away all that has been gained and to surrender in the moment of victory. We trust that there will be no faltering, no slipping of joints, or slacking of nerves, no unto throw away all that has been gained and to surrender in the moment of victory. We trust that there will be no faltering, no slipstringing and disarming among the friends of freedom and mankind until these once slaves—now slaves no more forever, thank God, but free men with the wants, respon-sibilities, and interests of freemen—shall possess tranquil seats and enjoy a secure and real freedom. Help to accomplish this, General, as you have largely contributed to what has already been done; and when God's great ages shall have rolled away and the enlarged and better men of a better age, standing up in a civilization in whose light no such foul thing as slavery can live, and looking back—possibly across a belt of darkness—shall search for the causes and the agents that have generated their happiness, they may be oblivious of many a fame now brilliunt, they may care little for many of the barrers and despised of the lower of the heroes and demigods of this lower age, but we are persuaded that they will not forget you General—no, nor even the may haply reach those shores. To which Gen. Brisbin replied: Officers and Soldiers of the 125th United States Colored Infantry: I accept the beautiful and costly gift you have made me, and am glad to know it is presented more as a token of your high appreciation of the cause in which I am engaged than on account of any personal relations. Ever since I began life I have opposed slavery, because I believed it to be a great social, moral and political wrong. A few years ago I ex-pected never to live to see the hour, when in a slave State, I could address black men as freemen. But, thank God, it has come, and the future opens before you full of sunshine, prosperity and promise. The long agony is over, the manacles have dropped from your wrists, and you to-day stand regenerated, disenthralled by the irressitible genius of universal emancipation. And now in your new condition as a free people it will require all your patience, prudence and judgment, that the first steps be made in the right way and in the right direction. I regret to see that some black people do not seem to understand the true meaning of freedom and abuse it. They mistake impudence for independence, arrogance for wisdom, and sloth for liberty. Remember that the free man is always a gentleman, kind to his inferiors, civil to his equals, and

I know that it is hard for you to bear all the insults heaped upon you by the people among whom you live, but you must conamong whom you have, but you must consider their early education, remember that the Southern people have been raised to regard you as property, and accustomed all their lives to treat you as slaves. The habits of years cannot be given up in a day, and you must not expect your old masters, all at once to treat you with that considera-tion and attention which is due you as freedmen. Many of them are ignorant and full of bitter prejudice, and it will require some time for them to become accustomed to the new condition of things and realize fully that they are no longer masters. Bear patiently the hardships God has set before you, and all will be well in the end. Many are anxious to know what is to become of you in the future. I confess I have more anxiety about what is to become of the white than the poor black people of the South. In this country labor is wealth, and money is power. When I recollect that for generations these white people have lived off of your labor, and now that the labor is your and they can derive no more bear. our own and they can derive no more ber efit from it, the question arises, how are they to live? You will work and they will not; you will gather money for your labor, and they will spend their money in hiring

It is true that it will require some time for them to spend the great wealth they have acquired from your unrequited toil, but two generations will effect the change I speak of, and unless they turn to and earn money by labor, the property they now lour years, ended in the secession or rebellion of thirteen or fourteen States, you then to carefully save your money, for "The basis of representation in the Sen-be given you?

1st. I believe the President has as much power to confer on you the elective fran-chise as he has to allow men who have been in rebellion to vote. Since the war began you have become a part of the people of the South, and the President should not re-store the elective franchise to one part of the Southern people, and exclude another part; he should not give the disloyal white people of the South the right to yote and exclude the loyal black people from voting.

Message of Governor Perry.

great political convulsions which have re-cently taken place in the Southern States, and the terrific war which has swept over South Carolina," he'remarks that "the President of the United States has manifested a generous and patriotic solicitude for the restoration of the Southern States to all their civil and political rights under the Constitution and laws of the United States." Of the death of slavery and the changes now to be made in the State Constitution, the Governor says:

"African slavery, which was a cherished institution of South Carolina from her earliest colonial history, patriarchal in its character, under which the negro has multiplied and increased with a rapidity proving that he has been kindly cared for and protected, is gone, dead forever, never to be revived or hoped for in the future of this

ate. "Under the war-making power the military authorities of the United States have abolished slavery in all of the seceding States. The oath you have solemnly taken to abide by and faithfully support all laws and proclamations which have been made during the existing rebellion, with reference to the emancipation of slaves, requires you, in good faith, to abolish slavery in your new or amended Constitution.

"The express terms on which your pardons have been issued, stipulate that you shall never again own or employ slave labor. It is likewise altogether probable that the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution, abolishing slavery, will be adopted by three-fourths of the States, and become a part of the Constitution. Moreover, it is impossible for South Caro-lina ever to regain her civil rights and be restored to the Union till she voluntarily abolishes slavery, and declares by an organic law, that neither 'slavery no involganic law, that neither 'slavery no invol-untary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted,' shall ever again exist within the limits of the State. Until this is done, we shall be kept under military rule, and the negroes will be protected as 'freedmen' by the whole military force of the United States. But I know that you are all honorable men, as well as patriotic men. all honorable men, as well as patriotic men, and will do your duty faithfully to yourselves and your country, however painful it may be.

"In making this unavoidable change in your Constitution, abolishing slavery, and which will require the substitution of hired labor for that of slave labor, and it is to be labor for that of slave labor, and it is to be hoped that none of those evils will be experienced which some have anticipated. By a wise, just and humane treatment of 'freedmen' and women, you may attach them to you as strongly in their new condition as they were whilst your slaves. They will soon learn to see and feel their dependence on you and know that their interests require them to be true and faithful to you, 'It is to be expected that so great and sudden a change as this in the condition of the negro will produce, at first, confusion.

sudden a change as this in the condition of the negro will produce, at first, confusion, idleness and dissatisfaction. This, however, will only be temporary. Time and experi-ence must bring order and system. The 'freedman' will soon find out that he must work or perish. Legislation will necessa-rily be required to regulate the relative duties of the employer and employee." He dwells upon the necessity of popular-izing the State constitution, as follows: "It is very desirable that you should avail yourselyes of the present opportunity of

"It is very desirable that you should avail yourselves of the present opportunity of reforming and popularizing the State constitution in several particulars. It is the reproach of South Carolina abroad that her constitution is less popular and repubcan in its provisions than that of any other State in the Union. And it is thought by many that to this cause alone may be traced the origin of that discontent and dissatisfaction with the Federal Government, which, after being nursed for thirty-three or thirty-four years, ended in the secession or rebel-of grave importance, and adds:

"The radical Republican party North are looking with great interest to the action of the Southern States in reference to negro suffrage, and whilst they admit that a man should be able to read and write and have a property qualification in order to vote, yet they contend that there should be no distinction between voters on account of color. They forget that this is a white man's government, and intended for white men only; and that the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that the negro is not an American citizen under the Fedstate of the Union has the unquestionable right of deciding for herself who shall exercise the right of suffrage is beyond all dispute. cers by the people, and styles the election of Presidential electors by the Legislature "a usurpation on the part of that body, and which no other State in the Union tolerates at the present time." He also insists that in all elections made by the Legislature the in all elections made by the Legislature the voting should be viva voce.

Among the minor recommendations are the consolidation of the Treasury Department of the State; the speedy election of members of Congress; and the legalization of all acts passed by the rebel legislature which do not conflict with the Constitution of the United States. On the question of taxetion be says:

of the United States. On the question of taxation he says:

"I was authorized by the President to lay a tax, by assessment, for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the convention. This I declined to do, in consequence of the utter destitution of the people, and you will have to make such arrangements for your expenses as you may think most advisable,"

Money and business are treated of as follows:

"The want of money or a circulating methe means of enriching and improving the remainder. Northern capitalists and European immigrants will readily make investments in real estate in South Carolina. In dant in the Northern States, will naturally and necessarily flow South, seeking its value, as water flows seeking its level.

"After the collapse of the so-called Confederacy, the Southern States were left in a most anomalous condition in reference to their monetary affairs. The gold and silver had been exported as an article of com-merce during the war; the State banks were all broken and their bills driven out of circulation, and the Confederate money be-came, of course, valueless. This left the South without any kind of money or a circulating medium. Eight millions of people, in a high state of civilization, occupying a rich and fertile country, without money or the means of exchange, except by barter."

In conclusion, the Governor declares that South Carolina resumes her allegiance in good faith, counsels the convention to "do all that is necessary to aid the President in carrying out his wise and generous policy of reconstruction;" and says that the military authorities in the State have been instruct-ed not to interfere with the civil administration. The troops are alluded to in the following terms: "It is also a source of congratulation to know that the colored troops, whose atro-cious conduct has disgraced the service and filled the public mind with the most horri-ble apprehensions, have been withdrawn from the interior of the State, and are to be placed in garrisons on the coast, where they can do no further mischief. In all of my personal interviews with the President and in all of my dispatches to him, I urged this course most earnestly. The white troops are, I believe, doing their duty beneficially to the country, in preserving the peace and good order of the State. It is thought that their presence amongst us for some time yet will be necessary, in order to enforce the relative duties of the freedmen and their employers."

Richly Merited Tribute.

At a meeting of the friends of Dr. O. Hoyt, held on Court Place, Friday, 22nd inst., the following address was prepared and adopted, on the occasion of his departure from the city of Louisville:

Dr. Otis Hoyt, late Surgeon 30th Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry,
DEAR SIR: Learning with regret that you are about to leave us, and that the pleasant daily connection between us is about to be severed, we take this opportunity of bidding you a friendly farewell and tendering our assurances of an enduring friendship.
To many of us you were a stranger when you arrived in our city; it is to such, asource of pride and pleasure to be now numbered of pride and pleasure to be now numbered among your numerous friends, and be as-sured you carry with you to your home no more sincere and ardent wishes for your prosperity and happiness than they earnestly send with you.

We cannot forget that at the commence-ment of the late unhappy war, you were enjoying that retirement so grateful to one who had for so many years labored in the endeavored to perform that duty faithfully and honestly, and it is a source of satisfac-tion to me to feel that I have done it in such a manner as to receive the cordial approval you have been pleased to bestow upon me. Again thanking you for this evidence of your regard, and with the hope that your journey through life may be as pleasant and cheerful as you have made mine during my stay among you, I bid you, one and Mississippi Militia.

It is stated on pretty good authority that most of the militia now being organized in Mississippi, refuse to be mustered under any other than th State flag, and openly proclaim their determination never to serve in any capacity under the stars and stripes. This capacity under the stars and stripes. This is not official, but it purports to come from an officer connected with freedmen's affairs, to Major General Howard. We shall know in a short time the truth or falsity of the statement; for in case there is any foundastatement; for in case there is any founda-tion for the report, the President, of course, will back water in his Southern organiza-tion experiment. The draft on the Missis-sippi milliua amounts to twelve thousand men—a very respectable body, in numbers, to be armed by the Government, with such sentiments on their lips and in their hearts against the old flag.

So far, no decided opposition has been exhibited by the Republican party against this policy of the Administration. Grave doubts have been and continue to be ex-pressed about its wisdom and its success; pressed about its wisdom and its success; but every one, almost, seems willing to give the experiment a fair trial. If, by withdrawing the military forces from the Southern States, and placing the reins in the hands of the people lately in the rebellior, reconstruction shall be better and sooner accomplished, every one will related to the President sooner accomplished, every one will re-joice, and fail not to yield to the President the honor of the prolound sagacity which discovered the plan, and the nerve which executed it. There is something in human nature, we admit, that may justify an ex-periment of the kind occasionally, but tha-something is rather too uncertain and cont something is rather too uncertain and cont ditional to be depended upon where great and important results are involved. We may "heap coals of fire" on an individual head by generous and magnanimous treatment, but we doubt the theory in its application to States. Among large masses the effect is diffused, weakened and counteracted.

The old plan is the better and safer one, think, there will be a return. and to that, we think, there will be a return before a great while. President Johnson appears to be ready at any moment, when his experiment shows evident signs of failure, to come back to the former line of policy. The conduct of the Mississippi militia is a tolerably fair reminder of the wisdom of the original design, and the harsh treatment of the freedmen, and constant appli-cation for further Executive favors and clemencies are the evidences of the retenion of grudges and a desire for power that badly comports with the National wish and expectation. There is one thing certain, and that is, the old method of reconstructing the Southern States was free from any thing of a dangerous tendency. The peo-ple of the South were satisfied with it—in-deed they deemed it gentle and generous. Concessions were, however, admitted, and these concessions are clamorous for greater privileges. As the policy works now, nothing short of the restoration to power of all the States of the training and the states of the restoration to power of the states all the States lately in revolt again Government, may be looked for at an early moment, and that, too, before the compensations of the war are secured.—St. Louis

Paymaster W. F. Webb, found guilty of ollusion with claim agents in purchasing oldiers' check books, has been sentenced by court martial to be dismissed the service with loss of pay, to pay a fine of $1000 to the United States, and be confined in the Concord (N. H.,) penitentiary. The length of term is not stated.

Major Webb was not charged nor convicted for any collusion or connection with claim agents, nor for any complicity with the purchase of check books, nor of frauds in any respect. He collected accounts voluntarily paid him, and unofficially, for a citizen, and also for a sutler, for which he received a compensation, as has been done by every paymaster in the service. He was dismissed, fined $1000 and ordered to be confined in a penitentiary till the fine was paid. The President ordered a suspension of the sentence till further order. Maj. W. is one of the first men of New York, and stood among the highest in the Pay Department.

Canada is becoming depopulated. This in itself is a sure sign that the Union is receiving the mass of its emigration. The exodus has been so serious as to create a exodus has been so serious as to create a call in some quarters upon the attention of Government; but young Canada continues flocking to the border. The Bishop of Toronto lately gave as his reasons for not rebuilding his cathedral, the great losses which his diocese has sustained in numbers. In 1861 this Catholic diocese had a congregation of 42,000; but according to the census now given by the bishop it does not contain more than 30,000. Toronto City from having 8,000 Catholics has diminished to 4,000. Not one, but many Canadian, journals, make the same complaint, and the emigration, though mostly from among the Irish, seems to extend to other sects and classes of workingmen. "The people," says a Montreal journal, "are leaving us by tens of thousands." This seems to be no phenomenon but only the reasonable out-working of that natural lew which seeks every good opening, and which, some day, may influence Canada itself to come into the Union.

About a month ago the body of an un-known man, who had been brutally murdered, was found in Pittsburg. The mur-der has remained a mystery since, until a A mail train was blown up on Tuesday, near Port Walthall Junction, on the Rich-mond and Petersburg railroad, by the ignition, by a spark from the locomotive, of some captured rebel ammution which was lying along side the track. Fortunately, no lives were lost, although six cars wer destroyed by the explosion.

Memphis papers state that Major General N. J. T. Dana, lately commanding in West Tennessee, has been indicted before the criminal court of the city in the sum of $75,000. The crime is not stated, and even cement itself is blindly given; but we may presume that some rel suffered under military administration has resorted to the courts for redress. The Barrett mentioned in a dispatch

The Richmond Times rejoicingly informs its readers that Mr. Chandler, United States District Attorney for Eastern Virginia, in an address to the citizens of Dinwiddle, on the 18th, declared that all confiscation was at an end, and that he had received orders to suspend all confiscations. The building formerly used as a powder mill near Marshall, Texas, was receently blown up and with it four men belonging to the 8th Illinois regiment, who were honorably discharged. Two of them, named Davis and Little, lingered in excruciating pain until the following morning, when they died. The other two, named Great and Algord will recover.

Fort Pulaski, with its frowning parapets lined with the savage dogs of war, is at present a place of considerable interest, within its battered, war-begrimed, historic walls, several distinguished prisoners of the late Confederate States. Among the prominent men now confined there are Gov. Magrath, of South Carolina; G. A. Trenholm, late Secretary of the Treasury of the defunct Confederacy; D. L. A Dublin letter states that the British govern-ment evinces much anxiety in regard to the per of Femans enrolled here on the 1st of last month was 272,581; that the object of the brotherhood is not to free Ireland, but to conquer Canada and divide it among the Irish; and that the movement is sanctioned by the American government and ruled by Secretary Seward—which statements, of course, will be taken cum grano salis.

A Washington dispatch describes a scene in the Wirz trial, on Friday last, as follows: Near the close of the session, one of the witnesses testified to several murders committed by the prisoner, and identified him as the person who came riding up as he and a comrade were carrying the corpse of a prisoner to the dead house, and asked them by what authority they were there, and when answered "by proper authority," shot his comrade dead on the spot. The prisoner was directed to stand up, that he might be identified with more certainty. when he became excessively agitated, and after attempting, in a stuttering and incoherent manner, to address the witness and the Court, seemed about to sink down in when the Court was cleard and he was taken in charge of by his phy-

Noble Conduct of a Railroad Fireman The Detroit Free Press of the 19th inst., relates the following incident: Last Mon-day, as the Detroit and Milwaukee mornday, as the Detroit and Milwaukee morning freight train from this city was rounding the curve about a mile east of Pontiac, the engineer observed a little boy apparently about four years of age, standing in the center of the track not more than fifty yards ahead of the engine. Sounding the whistle for on-breaks, he endeavored by all possible means to stop his train. Being, however, on a down grade, it was impossible means to stop his train. owever, on a down grade, it was impossible to succeed. At this critical juncture, when the almost absolute certainty of a horrible death was hovering over the poor child, the fireman, James Delaney, sprang through the window, ran along the side of locomotive, crawled to the extreme point of the cow-catcher, and as they swept along at the rate of fifteen miles per hour, grasped the boy by the arm, dragging him as it were from the very jaws of death. Unable with his burden to retrace his way, the brave fellow with unfaltering nerve clung to his charge, and in the position in which he had rescued him, they arrived at the platform of the station. of the station.

DEATH OF MRS. white faces, engaged in the infernal work of preventing peace when the whole country beside them are praying for it with outstretched hands and eyes red with anguish." And more such stuff. We don't know any party, nor any individuals, to whom this description applies. We think the Journal man does not. And we should suppose he would regard that old calumny, more absurd if possible than calumnious, of the class he hates with such truculent fury being "equally guilty with the original Southern conspirators" as a little stale, just the least bit affected with age and unserviceableness. It did pretty well in the days of Kentucky neutrality, when this State in her impregnable majesty and power was going to hold "both belligerents at bay" along the entire sweep of her border line. It was then about as useful a dodge, and an equally well-founded doctrine with that of neutrality itself. But, like other dogs, it

It is possible that a great many men are needlessly distrustful of defeated and surrendered traitors. But such distrust however strong does not of itself indicate any unwonted depravity, or any depravity at all. It is an exceedingly natural distrust, and the attempt making by political demfew days ago, when two germans were arrested on suspicion, one of whom has made agogues to bluff it down, bully it into silence will only serve to increase it. We are glad to believe that a wholesome and profoundly revolutionary change is going on in the Southern mind respecting the two fatal heresies which ripened into ruin, namely State Sovereignty and the eternal right, fitness and propriety of slavery. As the former grew out of the latter, it will inevitably vanish with it. We rejoice to hear every authentic account of the trial in good faith by Southern planters, of free labor. We are just as certain of the success of the experiment whenever and wherever it is honestly made, as of the alternation of the seasons. And as we hold this problem to be the controlling, the paramount one involved in the restoration of the Union, we lesire to see its solution placed beyond any doubt, or possibility of failure, before complete political power is restored to the section lately in revolt.

There are, to be sure, some other points to be secured, and made as sure as human affairs on a national scale can be made, such as the national credit, a just principle of representation, and so on. But none of these collateral questions are so important as for the white inhabitants of the South to discover that it is equally just and wise, and even profitable to accord to all men, without stint, reservation, or qualification, their inalienable rights. When they make this discovery the devils will depart from them. We desire them to have a reasonable time in which to make it. And as we can think of no agency so efficient as the Freedmen's Bureau for unfolding these saving truths to them, we desire that agency to have a reasonable time for consummating its work. Political demagogues are determined by a mixture of coaxing and cursing to cheat the country out of this indispensible element of time in the great process of healing now well under way.

They have selfish and grovelling ends to serve in this. And for the sake of these, they are indefatigable in plastering up the wounds with high-sounding resolutions, and as fast as their quack remedy extends, ful epidemic is onward, and it appears Fenian movement. A letter from the United they pronouce the cure already effected States to an Irish paper states that the and perfect, and damn everybody who localities it claims as many victims now as there be no danger of gangrene burrowing there. Their conduct naturally awakens suspicion amongst the true friends of the republic who have had sufficient experience to detest quackery and reject short-hand methods for doing long-hand work.

No one who makes even a shadowy pretense of loyalty, will deny that important and fundamental changes of sentiment in the Southern people, are an indispensible pre-requisite to their receiving back their forfeited political privileges. None but hopelessly demented copperheads do deny it. Is any one prepared to say that these changes are already consummated?

Northern Democracy. But we believe a majority of loyal people distrust their sincerity in this. There is too much reason to think that the party which was so ignominously treacherous to the country in the day of its need, does not desire those needful changes of sentiment referred to. And hence their noisy and threatening clamor over the consummation of such, puts loyal men sharply on their guard. The bluster and exultation of these unscrupulous demagogues is prima facie evidence that mischief's afoot somewhere. Doubtless the country through the invincibility of patience, will overcome all perils and machinations. But its safety depends in part upon the very reaction which this species of bluster awakens. One logically asks: Is it probable that the old pro-slavery temper is already extinct throughout the South? when even the Louisville Journal that has been for some months advocating, after a fashion, universal emancipation, betrays so much of the old virus of slavery whenever its attention wanders towards those who have been steadfast and life-long opponents of the institution.

That paper is more ferocious and intensely bitter to-day towards the anti-slavery men in the country-who are such on principle-than it has ever been towards rebels. Jeff. Davis has never received a tithe of the invective, which it pours venomous and foaming upon the name of Charles Sumner. Indeed we are not aware that Jeff. Davis ever received anything at its hands worse than mild rebukes, or gentle lamentation over his errors. Such facts serve to deepen the conviction which common sense suffices to awaken ,that the life-long devotees of slavery can not make ready in a day for the new era of freedom. And the advice of these devotees themselves touching this matter becomes accordingly more or less qualified and impaired in value, especially when accompanied with vehement and virulent abuse of those who decline to accept

CITY AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE ABORTION CASE-COL. JACQUES .-The fall of such a man as Col. Jacques is sufficient to arouse the sorrow of every man who knows the former worth of the gallant Jacques. He was one of the first and most influential of the Methodist denomination in Illinois. When that body established a female educational school in Jacksonville, he was placed in charge of it. He managed it with such talent and success that when a greater educational enterprise was projected, he was transferred to it. He was engaged in this when the rebellion commenced. Col. Jacques was a man of intense loyalty, of commanding influence and of great oratorical ability. He took the field in behalf of the Union and speedily raised one of the finest regiments that Illinois gave to the service of the nation. It was called the preacher's regiment, on account of the number of preachers enlisted in it. Of this regiment Jacques was made Colonel, and he served with great distinc-

During the progress of the war, Colonel Jacques had numerous conferences with Bishop Simpson, and both were well satisfied that if a Methodist of proper position in the North could get among the Southern Methodists much might be done toward crippling the rebellion. This mission Col. Jacques undertook with the approval of Bishop Simpson and of Mr. Lincoln. Col. Jacques bravely met the peril and traveled extensively among the Southern Methodists. He returned just before the battle of Chickamauga and took a conspicuous part in that battle.

Col. Jacques was the companion of Mr Gilmore in a visit to Richmond for an interview with Jeff. Davis, in which mission they succeeded. This visit was intended to bring about peace.

The Colonel has recently been detailed for breaking up the negro camps, such as Camp Nelson. This is the cause of his presence in Kentucky.

On Friday last Col. Jacques employed a fellow calling himself dr. H. G. Miller, to procure an abortion in the case of a Georgia woman. The Colonel was present during the tragedy, and was arrested with the female abortionist, at whose house the murder was perpetrated and with Miller, the abortionist, the murderer of innocents. The victim died in about eight hours after Miller commenced his depredations. The whole party was arrested in flagrante delicto and are now in jail, the Coroner's inquest having amply confirmed all the suspicion that led to the interference of the police. Mr. Turner, the policeman, saw signs of the outrage in progress, and made his preparations for arresting the guilty parties, in which, as we have said, he succeeded. We do not rejoice in iniquity, and we cannot but drop tears of sorrow over the fall of such a man as Colonel Jacques.

THE CHOLERA.—The march of this fearfrom our advices from Europe, that in some doubts, or who asks for a little time to look when it first appeared. The name of the Franklin, Kentucky, on Saturday were under their empirical application to see if dread monster sends a sickening stroke to again compelled to chronicle the murder of each and every inhabitant of our land, and one of their truest and best citizens. A especially are we here in Louisville made white-washed paroled rebel horse thief, of " Cholera," Why? The reason that we dread it so much and have every reason to Union man, who lives four miles south of fear that when it reaches our land it will Franklin, near the Tennessee line, and certainly visit our city, is the filthy and unhealthy condition of our streets, gutters, &c. The Council of the city with that wisdom and promptness that is praiseworthy, have enacted two ordinances for the certain and permanent cleansing of the streets and by Payne's little son, who was able to give gutters of the city. They being only the leglative part of the corporation, cannot do any heard it called by Payne when he bid the more in that direction, and the ordinances, time of day with the man. The citizens are The Journal apparently is, and so is the like many others of as much importunce, remain on our records as a "dead letters"as nothing. Why? The executive of the verely. city is not an exective officer. He either winks at his duty, does not feel the importance of enforcing laws, or cannot understand his duty. The City Council have also enacted an ordinance organizing a "Board of Health." which is a good and practicable bill. The members of the board have heen promptly elected; there it rests, the end not arrived at, not even commenced arriving at the purpose. Why? The ordinance reads: "It shall be the duty of the Mayor to give official notice of their election to the several members of the Board, ummediately after their election." We would ask the several gentlemen, who have been elected, if they have had such notice. We know they have not. It is plain where the fault lies. Ordinances and resolutions (upon the urgent demand of the people) have been enacted by the General Council, with a view of placing our city in the sanitary condition ture demand. These laws are almost perfect, and are now being enforced in other cities, and the praised. Here in this popular and beautiful home of ours, nothing is being done. No one executes the laws. That is now the those who are neglecting their sworn and bounden duty in this matter take warning. for when this scourge visits us, and the cry from every street, remember that much, stay the calamity. We hope that the ordifrom the houses, for the keeping of streets clean, and the odinance regulating a Board of Health will be enforced. If not, then let the citizens demand the reason, and remedy the evil.

Woods' THEATER .- At this place of amusement there is still a liberal share of patronage. The charming Lotta will appear each evening during the present week To-night the Seven Daughters of Satan will again be produced with new songs, dances and local hits.

Boiler Explosion in a Printing OF-FICE-NARROW ESCAPES. - About five o'clock Saturday afternoon, the community in the vicinity of Third street were startled by a terrible noise, which sounded as if a heavy piece of artillery had been discharged in the street. The excitement in the street was intense, and large crowds flocked towards the spot from whence the ound proceeded. It was soon found that the boiler of the Volksblatt office on Third street, near Market, had exploded. The boiler was situated in the rear of the building in a house erected for the purpose. This house was torn to atoms by the explosion, and bricks, timber, and mortar were thrown in all directions. The explosion, which we believe resulted from oversight, was most terrific. A large piece of the boiler was sent whizzing through the air to Second street. Another piece of large size fell in Third street. It is almost miraculous that no one was killed by this accident. We are happy to be able to state that no one was seriously injured. Mr. Krippenstapel, the proprietor of the paper, was at the desk in the front part of the office and had his head slightly cut by some of the flying rubbish. The engineer was only a few steps from the boiler at the time of the explosion, but strange to say he escaped uninjured. The power press in an adjoining room, and which was running at the time was covered with rubbish. The pressman also luckily escaped. The jar caused by the explosion broke all the glass in the windows in the adjoining houses, and also broke the glass in the show win dows along the square.

The loss to the establishment will amount to about $1500. The accident will not cause any temporary suspension of the paper.

There were some rather amusing incidents connected with this serious accident. Adjoining the printing office is a barber shop and bathing establishment, both of which at the time were filled with citizens. After the crash which followed the explo sion, they rushed pell-mell into the street under the impression that the house had been struck by lightning. They presented a very amusing picture. Those from the bathing room rushing about with scanty raiment, and those from the barber shop with lathered faces and partly shaven with the towels still tastened about their necks. One Falstaffian individual, who appeared in nothing but a shirt of short dimensions was making as much or more noise than the explosion. He thought he had made a narrow escape. Not until some time after the amount of damage had been ascertained did the ludicrousness of the scene appear.

LOUISVILLE THEATER,- Mr. Macauley closed his engagement Saturday night to a very fine audience. His acting during the engagement was very good, and gave very general satisfaction. To-Night-Miss Rachel Johnson-the young actress, will make her first appearance in this city, this evening, as "Florence Upperton," in the new comedy of the "Belle of the Season." This lady is said to be very talented. The Boston Herald thus speaks of her: "Her conception of character combines the charm of intuity, with an obsolute individuality, and her execution of many celebrated passages, approaches perfection as nearly as it is possible in the mimic scene. No matter what the part assumed-or vitalized we should rather savshe invests it from first to last, with all the force of her sympathetic soul. We might exhaust eulogy upon this splendid woman, and would even then say nothing that an appreciative public would fail to indorse."

Mr. Macauly has been re-engaged to sustain Miss Johnson. We expect to see a crowded house.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE-A GUERRILLA KILLS A UNION MAN,-The loval citizens o almost speechless when we hear the name | Harper's gang, on Saturday last went to the residence of Mr. Payne, an unflinching called Payne to his front gate to chat with him. They had only been conversing a few minutes when the scoundrel drew a revolver and shot Payne five times, killing him instantly. The murder was witnessed the name of his father's murderer; having very indignant, and if the villain is caught it is expected that he will be punished se-

> DIABOLICAL MURDER,-On Saturday the Coroner was called upon to hold an inquest upon the body of a Mrs. Delaney, on the wharf, who had died from the effect of premature child birth. The testimony elicited the fact that the husband of Mrs. Delaney had been in the habit of treating her in the most cruel manner. He is an habitual drunkard, and while under the influence of strong drink had, on last Tuesday, beaten his wife in a most inhuman manner. On Tuesday the deceased gave birth to a child, which immediately died, and on Friday she died. It was also proven before the coroner's jury that Delaney had struck his wife with a brick Thursday. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts. Delaney was arrested and placed in jail.

NASHVILLE TRAIN-MAN KILLED.-AS the express train from Nashville, Captain that the signs of the times and the dread fu- Fish Henry, Conductor, was coming down the heavy grade this side of the first trestle work on Muldraugh's Hill, yesterday afternoon, a man was discovered lying on fruits of the work elsewhere are being the track by the engineer too late, however, to check the speed of the engine, and the entire train passed over him, mangling him horribly. The train stopped and backed only and important thing wanted. Let up to the place where the man lay, and it is supposed, from the fact that a bottle of whiskey was lying conveniently near the man, that he was drunk and insensible to of the dying and the mourner will come the near approach of the train. He was recognized by a man living close by as a perhaps enough, might have been done to railroad repair man, and he was only a half a mile from his home. We were unable to nances for the removing of filth and dirt learn his name. The train was delayed one hour in consevuence of the accident.

> ORDINATION .- Very interesting exercises were held at the Cathedral yesterday in the ordination of Right Rev. Peter Joseph Lavialle as Bishop of this Diocese. Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati, officiated, assisted by Archbishop Spalding, and several eminent Bishops from other places. A large num- oil territory. ber of priests were also present and took part in the exercise. The Cathedral was A steamship from Liverpool brought crowded.

NEW TOBACCO .- By referring to our commercial summary it will be seen that three hogsheads of new leaf, this year's crop, were received, and sold Saturday. They realized very handsome prices.

It is with sincere delight that we see it announced that there are grounds for the suspicions against Lieut. Col. Asa Holt, Paymaster at Nashville, who was arrested a short time since on the belief that he was concerned in frauds alleged against certain paymasters. Col. Holt when arrested was taken to Washington and there, on full examination of his accounts and of himself, he was pronounced free from any cause for dissatisfaction. It was matter of amazement to all who knew Col. Holt, either as a business man or personally, that even as a possibility any just suspicion should attach to him, for he was regarded not only as one of the best officers of the pay department, but also personally honorable to the highest degree, and we are glad to see now that there has never been ground for any change of that favorable opinion.

We are authorized by the proprietors of the grand exhibition at the Fair Grounds to say that the premium awarded on the first day, in the tournament exercises to the married men only, may be awarded to any member of their family, or any one whom they may see proper to call. This exhibition promises to be one of the grandest affairs that has come off for some time. The premiums, which are on exhibition at Messrs. Cook & Goodman's jewelry store, on Third street, are very fine specimens of workmanship. A visit to that establishment will prove very entertaining.

Persons visiting Madison, Indiana, will find it much to their advantage to stop at the Monroe House. The gentlemanly proprietor, W. M. Monroe, is the Madison city directory, being able to give strangers all of the information they may ask in regard to the inhabitants, business and general interests of the city, besides affording as good accommodations as may be found in any first-class Hotel. George Nodler, the Clerk, is obliging, attentive and agreeable, and can make a man feel as much at home at the Monroe House as one could CUTTING .- A party of young men got into a difficulty in a drinking saloon on Third street, last night about nine o'clock. Pistols and knives were drawn, and for a time matters looked serious. A young man named George Harman cut a man in the arm, inflicting a slight wound. The man fired at Harman, missing him. Both parties were arrested.

DEMAND FOR BRICK .- The manufacture of brick for city use has either fallen off or there is an unusual demand for building purposes. Good merchantable brick now ommand $12 00 per thousand, and some makers are refusing to make new contracts for less than $14 00. Hard, or paving brick, are higher, the yard price ranging from $15 00 to $20 00 per thousand.

THE MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE,-There is to be a meeting of the members of the Board of Trade, at the Exchange, at noon to-day. A full attendance is expected, as, in addition to other matters, the report of the special committee on freights is to be received.

ARLINGTON'S MINSTRELS,-This band of minstrels remain with us a portion of this week. We advise all the lovers of fun and fine music to go and see them. The singing of Butler is alone worth the price of admission. Arlington and Price will be on hand to amuse the crowd. During an irksome delay of two hours on the Troy and Boston Railroad the other day, two young men, just to kill time

proposed to two young ladies respectively, and a clergyman being at hand, were married on the spot. A new oil company has been organized in this city under the name of the Louisville Petroleum Company, with Capt. B. B. Levi as its chief director. It is situa-

On Monday a convention of all societies belonging to the Working-men's Union in this State will be held at Albany to con-sider questions that interest that class; sider questions that interest that class; such as that of excluding convicts from employment to the detriment of honest mechanics, and the regulations of laws of apprenticeship. The question has been long and well discussed, but still comparatively new. The Association complains that the graduates of Sing Sing are permitted to compete with respectable persons of the laboring classes, and that owing to an inefficient system of apprenticeship, good workmen in every branch of mechanical arts are growing less. ical arts are growing less.

A British War Vessel after the Shenandoah.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.-A'Panama letter of the 6th says as soon as the dispatch reached Acupulco, giving news of the destruction of American whalers by the pirate Shenandoah, the commander of the English war steamer Devastation, lying in the harbor, sought an interview with Capt. G. P. Scott, of U. S. steamer Saranac, and informed him he should sail immediately with the Devastation in pursuit of the Shenandoah, and should treat the rebel cruiser as a virgat and capture her wherevers as a pirate, and capture her wherever she ight be found. He was as good as his word and left the port as soen as his ship could be got under Huyton and Gen. King had arrived at Savannah. Mail communication had been established with Charleston. Mail communication had been restored through the interior. The railroads are doing almost as much business as before the light of the state war. There is a great deal of cotton around Macon to be soon shipped to Savannah. A letter from Fernandina says that the negroes are very industrious and working hard.

From New Orleans .- Freedmen in Texas. New Orleans, Sept. 23.—Cotton quiet; 800 bales sold at 45c; sugar firm, fair to fully fair 143 @ 1634. Freights on cotton to New York & 1611 York ¾ to 1½.

Texas advices says the immigration of freedmen to the cities is decreasing rapidly, mostly returning home, evincing a desire to abide by contracts. In localities where negro troops are stationed a spirit of demoralization prevails.

Geo. W. Gray, whose testimony toward the close of yesterday's proceedings caused the prisoner so much distress, was crossexamined to-day. In reply to a question by Mr. Schade he said that he believed in punishment after death. When he arrived his feet at the time of his capture. Witness gave an affecting account of the suffering of prisoners.

Captain Wright was recalled and testified:
In the absence of the Post Captain, Wirz had command and countersigned furlough papers. Witness superintended the extension of the prison grounds, eleven acres having been added to them. Wirz made requisitions upon him for axes, which he had no difficulty in supplying. Fuel could have been supplied if prisoners had been allowed to go out after it under guard. Cross-examined—Wirz approved the re-

Cross-examined—Wirz approved the requisitions and furloughs.

J. Dyer, 4th U. S. colored troops, testified that Capt. Wirz proposed to the colored prisoners that if they would go South they could choose their own masters, and some of the guards said Wirz declared he would the prisoners join the Confederacy by make the prisoners join the Confederacy by starving them. Wirz brought Dr. White 3,000 letters addressed to Union prisoners. He handed them to Capt. Reed's wife. She took everything out of them, such as money,

for the following reasons:

1. That, undertaking the case on the day of its opening. I have had time to do no more than keep on with the daily examina-tions. I have had no time to inform myself what witnesses the detense have, nor what they will testify to, nor upon what points any certain witness will testify. Upon all these facts I must inform myself, by calling our witnesses together, and learning from them what they know, and upon what facts in the case they can testify. To do this requires time, which time I ask.

2. There are many points in the prosecu-tionjust closed, as there always are in cases, and especially in cases of the magnitude of this, which admit of and require at our hands complete refutation and contradic-tion. This I know can be done.

3. The reason is that the labors devolving on me in this case have proven quite too heavy, and my own health requires that I heavy, and my own health requires that I should have a few days rest. I regret very much to ask any favor of the Court, for reasons personal to myself, but when I state to the Court that I am unable to go further with the case without rest, I trust the Court will do me the honor to believe my statement.

The fourth reason, and an important one in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in our defense, and to give it more weight in the first of the last rise in fifteen inches, the first of the last rise in the first of th

I must state it in comparison with the powers of the Government: The Government has shown a commendable disposition to do generally what could be made strongly to appear to be necessary for the defendant, but should bear in mind it convened many months before the telephone. He has not even the means to procure the necessaries of a man, much less to defray the expenses incident to a trial like this. He has books report to cident to a trial like this. He has books and documents, but they have till to-day been kept from his counsel by the Government. He has witnesses, like the Government, in all parts of the United States—in almost every State and village of the country. Some of them have come at his request, but many more are kept away, even after subpoenced, because of want of means to come with. Others write and say: "Wo to come with. Saturday, September 23, 1865.
There has been a good supply of cattle offered the present week, but the quality, with some few exceptions was not very good. Prices have been a shade lower or inferior qualities, but the market was moderately active. Sales of the best at 5 ½ to 6½c; fair to good at 4 to 5c common and rough 3 to 3% gross wieght.

Sheep are unchanged, and prices range from 2½ to 3½ for common and fair, and 4 to 4½c for choice and extra live weight. Lambs at 8:50 to to $3 50 per head.

Hogs are in fair supply, but held very firm at 11½ to 13½c for good quality.

RECEIPTS.

The following is the report of the Shelby House stock yard for the week ending Saturday, September 23, 1865: SHELBY HOUSE SATURDAY EVENING, September 23. SHELBY HOUSE, SATURDAY EVENING, September 23.
The supply of all kit do of live stock to this yard during the past week has been equal to the demand, and good prices have been obtained. There is very little change to note in the prices since our last report, with the exception of hogs, which advanced one fourth of a cent.

We quote fat cattle from $5 50 to 6; me.ium $3.75 to 4.75 SHEIP—The greater number sold at $3.50, and about 300 at $4624.75 gpss weight.

"HOGS—Are in demand, and have sold from $12.75 to 13.75 for heavy; medium $10 to 12.20 gross weight. RECEIPTS.

[Corrected weekly for the New York Independent.] WEDNESDAY EVENING, Sept. 20.

The following are the wholesale not cash prices of all the leading styles of Domestic Dry Goods sold in the New York market. It is confidently believed that this weekly information, specially reported to the New York Independent, (and more perfectly than to any other newspaper in the city,) is worth to every dry goods merchant ten times the walkerping or wice of the newspaper.

SYMPTOMS.

Single bottle will last a month-to be used three time,

The Symtoms of Catarrh are at first very slight. Persons find they have a cold, then they have frequent at-tacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of tempera-ture. In this condition, the nose may be dry, or a slight discharge, thin and acrid, afterward thick and a creased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy, and are hawked or coughed off. The se-cretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the voice thick and nasal; the eyes are weak; the sense of smell i essened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place.

Another common and important symptom of Catarrh is that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a thick or slimy muceus, which has fallen from the head during the night. When this takes place the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the lungs and should lese no time in arresting it. The above are but few of the many Catarrhal symptoms. Write for our pamphiet describing fully all symptoms; it will be sent FREE to any address.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The steamer New York has arrived from Panama.

Panama had been kept in continued excitement by reports from the seat of war, but quiet was speedily produced by a dispatch from the interior.

The authorities of Salvador recently held a summary court martial for the trial of Gen. Barreras as a revolutionist and had him shot. He was notified of his sentence eleven o'clock at night and shot at four o'clock next morning. His execution has created dissatisfaction throughout Central America.

Baltimore, Sept. 23.—The banquet of the Grand Lodge, by merchants of this city, last night, was a grand affair. The Southern representatives appear to be par-ticularly pleased with their entertainment.

SUNDAY, September 24.

Judge Advocate Chipman here read an agreement entered into between the Judge Advocate and the counsel for the prisoner, by which the hospital records and death register, and such other records as shall be discovered, may be received in evidence, except in cases where objection may be legally interposed.

Judge Advocate Chipman then said that the Government would then informally described by the considered "extra hazardous." It is no uncommon occurrence for boats to stick in "mid career" in that the Government would then informally described by the considered "extra hazardous." referred to was Lewis Lee and others, of the rebel government, and the counsel had no right to object to the testimony which did not personally affect his client.

Mr. Baker said that the prisoner was charged with conspiring with parties named as well as parties not named. He did not know who the latter were. If the Judge Advocate introduced matter which had nothing to do with Wirtz, then, of course, he had no objection. The Court inquired of Judge Advocate Chipman whether he had such testimony at hand, and whether witnesses had been sent for College Court in the results of the Ohio, which proving too strong for her power to resist, she was cast upon the reef of rocks, or brakers, and had not been got off at a late hour yesterday. It was an unfortunate occurrence, causing an expensive delay. She perhaps would have saved money by awaiting a rise in the river, and ascending the falls.
